

Erasmus+ 2023/2024

Selection procedure for study abroad

The Dean of the Faculty of Education, Palacký University in Olomouc calls for applications to be submitted by full-time and combined students of the Faculty of Education, Palacký University in Olomouc for positions in the Erasmus+ programme for 2023/2024.

General conditions for the selection procedure for study abroad:

- 1. Applicants must be enrolled at the Faculty of Education in an accredited study programme (bachelor, master or doctoral study programme)
- 2. Language competences – English, German, or a language according to available programmes

During the selection procedure the applicants will be tested for language skills, knowledge of professional terminology in their selected language, verification of usual communication skills and interest in the selected type of study abroad.

Applicants must log in only through the Mobility application (<https://mobility.upol.cz/>). The application guide is available on the same website. The terms and dates of the selection procedure (including dates of interviews that might be held on-line) shall be determined by the departments of the Faculty of Education, Palacký University in this application. If you need more information about the application procedure please contact the coordinator of the respective department.

The results of the selection procedure will be communicated to the applicants via e-mail generated by the application after 16 February 2023. A successful applicant must confirm his/her agreement with participation in the programme within a deadline specified in the application.

Note:

- General information about the Erasmus+ programme is available on the website of the Division for International Cooperation of Palacký University <https://cfic.upol.cz/>*
- In case of any doubts please contact the respective Erasmus coordinator or the International Office of the Faculty of Education, Palacký University.*

PhDr. Jana Kvintová, Ph.D.

Vice-Dean for Foreign Affairs

Faculty of Education, Palacký University

doc. PhDr. Vojtech Regec, Ph.D.

Dean

Faculty of Education, Palacký University

In Olomouc, 16 January 2023